

Meter readers on strike at E.ON

 U.K.

Meter readers employed by the E.ON energy multinational took a day of strike action on Monday 17 December in protest at this year's pay offer and several years without a consolidated pay increase. They are also protesting because management have received higher increases in recent years. The workers will refuse to work overtime and will withdraw goodwill from 2 January until the dispute is resolved.

Read more at > Unite

epsucob

2012 December epsucob@NEWS 18

- Printer-friendly version