

CPD for support staff: a new career opportunity in nursing

Developing people for health and healthcare

England's Health and Social Care Workforce

- 1.3 million NHS workers
- 47% of these workers are over 45
- 1.4 million people work in social care
- The numbers of workers in both health and care are rising

A safer workforce delivering better care

- We hear that care assistants want their role valued – they want to be educated, recognised and supported.
- Many care assistants want to remain in their role but some want to progress – opportunity to earn and learn would allow this.
- Health and social care providers need to be able to grow their own workforce who represent the community they serve.
- Health services need to integrate better with social care – with more services available closer to home.

We need to ensure that patient safety and public confidence is at the core of any new developments

Working in partnership to develop the nursing associate role

- Unions as crucial stakeholders & critical friends

A welcome development opportunity for support workers?

UNISON's 2016 survey of 2,300 clinical support workers

In your current role how do you rate the training you receive:

"As far as I am aware there are no opportunities to develop beyond my current role which is most disappointing. Just because I don't necessarily want to become a nurse doesn't mean I don't want or [am not] capable of accepting more responsibility."

Union priorities

1. Widening participation – workforce better reflects communities
2. Mentoring and support
3. Clear roles & accountabilities
4. Added value, not substitute for nurses
5. Guaranteed posts at the end of the programme
6. Public recognition and value
7. Ongoing CPD for Nursing Associates
8. Statutory professional regulation
9. Flexible pathways and stepping off points: entry→ assistant→ nursing associate→ registered nurse

Union involvement in the nursing associate programme

- Reps on test site steering groups
- National reps on National Nursing Associate Implementation Group
- Work in national negotiating council to secure consistent pay banding of the role

Emerging issues

- Literacy and numeracy certification
- Mentoring and supervision
- Workforce planning in a time of rapid change
- Preparing for regulation
