Public service federation calls 24-hour strike

🔄 Greece

ADEDY, the public services confederation, has called a 24-hour strike for 14 November. It is calling on the government to negotiate over a gradual process of pay restoration. ADEDY says that civil servants have already seen pay cut by 40% and now tax rises and reductions in tax allowances will further reduce take home pay. It is calling for immediate pay rises and the restoration of the 13th and 14th month salaries as initial steps in this process. The strike demands also cover the urgent need to recruit additional permanent staff, for measures on skills and training rather than a new evaluation system, improvements to pensions and a stop to privatisation.

ADEDY (GR)

epsucob 2018 November epsucob@NEWS 21

• Printer-friendly version

Policies Central government Collective Bargaining Health Local government Pensions/retirement Social Services Training/life-long learning