

Confederation calls for co-ordinated approach to minimum wages

 Finland

The SAK blue-collar trade union confederation is aiming to secure a minimum wage of €1,500 for all full-time workers covered by the agreements negotiated by its affiliates. There is no statutory minimum wage in Finland with minimum wages set in different sectoral collective agreements. A €1,500 minimum wage would mean some substantial increases for some groups of workers.

Read more at > Trade union news \(EN\)

epsucob

14 epsucob@NEWS July 2009

- Printer-friendly version