

Unions demonstrate over government response to the crisis

 Spain

The CCOO and UGT confederations organised a major demonstration in Madrid on 12 December challenging the government's response to the crisis. The unions argue that proper social dialogue and collective bargaining are key to ensuring a way out of the recession that defends and creates jobs and public services. They have agreed on 12 action points that include a demand for a fairer tax system to fund more public investment in transport, health and education.
