

Better pay and conditions for childcare workers

 Germany

Ver.di general secretary Frank Bsirske has made a call for better pay and conditions for childcare workers and recognition of the very important role they play in early years education which can have a major impact on children's future development. With around 60% of jobs in the sector part-time and with limited potential to increase earnings, ver.di is also demanding that more full-time jobs and a better salary structure, demands that will feature in the upcoming negotiations over the collective agreement covering federal and local government workers.
