

Union opposition to retirement age change

 Portugal

The FNSFP public service union federation continues to express its opposition to government proposals to increase the pension age. From the end of this year a full pension will no longer be available at 60 after 36 years' service. The age and length of service will gradually increase over the next 10 years until a full pension will only be available at 65 years of age after 40 years' service.
