

Final Meeting of the Steering Committee Just Transition Project

(28 January 2011) The members of the Steering Committee evaluated the project and the Conference). They noted that it is important that the employers and the unions clarify as much as possible beforehand to prevent loss of time due to misunderstandings during the project. As regards the studies it should be considered next time if the funding is sufficient to realize what we want and if a larger contribution is needed from the social partners.

They also agreed the use of the recommendations and study and will jointly address it to members and relevant European institutions. This was the last meeting of the project which took place on 26 January 2011
