Unions build for 30 November national strike

Portugal

The FESAP and FNSFP public service federations have united in a call for a national strike across the whole of public administration for 30 November. With negotiations over pay having broken down the unions are calling for proper collective bargaining, for pay increases to take account of the loss of purchasing power in recent years and for a defence of employment rights in the public sector in the face of government reforms.
Read more at > SINTAP (PT)
And at > FNSFP (PT)

epsucob
21-2007 epsucob@NEWS 28 November 2007

- Printer-friendly version