Unions continue fight over pay and outsourcing

U.K.

Public service unions are fighting for better pay from outsourcing companies and to stop further outsourcing. Members of the PCS civil service union are continuing their long-running strike to get outsourcers Aramark and ISS to pay the living wage. They are calling on government intervention to resolve the dispute. Meanwhile health workers in Bradford in the north east are threatening an all-out strike in protest at plans to transfer them to a wholly-owned subsidiary rather than retain them as direct employees of the National Health Service.

PCS
Unison
epsucob
2019 August epsucob@NEWS 16

- Printer-friendly version

Policies
Central government
Health
Low pay/minimum wages
Outsourcing
Privatisation