

Scottish local government workers vote for industrial action

 U.K.

Following the strike across England, Wales and Northern Ireland, local government workers have now voted for industrial action in protest over a three-year pay offer from the employers that would mean increases of 2.5% in each year. Meanwhile, craft workers in England, Wales and Northern Ireland who negotiate separately over pay are also being balloted for strike action following a consultative ballot that rejected the employers' 2.45% pay offer.
