

Energy unions agree to continue their collaboration

 Europe

EPSU affiliates from six countries have agreed to maintain their collective bargaining network and meet two times a year to exchange information on collective bargaining policy. The group was initially brought together through a European Commission-funded project and has now met four times since January 2008, partly with assistance from the ETUI trade union education body. The unions from Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands will meet next in October when they will be focusing in particular on training as well as the use of fixed-term and agency workers in the energy sector.
