

Warning strikes over pay offer

 Germany

Services union ver.di along with the IGBCE union organised warning strikes across all departments of the RWE energy company on 16 and 17 December. The action involved around 6,000 workers and was in protest at the management's offer of a 2.4% pay increase plus lump sum payment. The unions argue that this is an insult in view of the company's massive profits and they have demanded a rise of 6.5%.
