

Survey reveals pressures facing health workers

 France

A major survey by the health and social services section of the CFDT confederation uncovers a continuing deterioration in working conditions for staff in the public health sector. Nearly 40,000 employees responded to the survey and over 90% said they found their work stressful with 57% saying that the levels of stress create problems for them. A majority of respondents say that work has intensified, workloads have increased and the management of human resources has deteriorated.
