

Workers reject pay offer in waste sector

 Netherlands

Members of both the FNV Abvakabo and CNV Publieke Zaak trade unions have overwhelmingly rejected the pay offer from employers in the environmental and waste sector. During the negotiations the employers had proposed a 24-month deal with an overall increase of 3.5% but then came up with a last-minute offer of 2.5% over 19 months. Negotiators in both trade unions had recommended rejection of the offer. The two unions are now seeking to re-open negotiations.
