

Confederations organise national strikes

Türkiye

The DISK and KESK trade union confederations took strike action on 17 June in protest at the government's violent repression of protests. Medical workers will be among the many groups joining the strike with a number having been attacked by the police for coming to the aid of demonstrators. The confederations are also protesting over continuing restrictions on union activity and collective bargaining along with intimidation of union members. Seventy-two members of the KESK public sector confederation continue to face charges of belonging to a banned organisation.
