

Sick leave falls in municipal sector

 Finland

The number of sick leave days in the municipal sector fell again last year - part of a downward trend since 2009. In 2013 the number of average sick leave days per employee was 16.7 days. A year before it was 17.2. Municipal union JHL thinks that local authorities might be contributing to the decline by focusing on working ability together with occupational health.
