

€1700 is next minimum wage target

 Austria

With very high levels of collective bargaining coverage, trade unions in Austria have been able to negotiate improved minimum wages without needing any legal minimum wage. In recent years unions have been campaigning to increase minimum wages with a target of €1500 a month. This was achieved in the retail sector earlier this year and now unions like the GPA-djp services union are looking at the next step in the campaign - a target of at least €1700 for minimum wages in all collective agreements.
