

Unions angry at privatisation of health service supplier

 U.K.

NHS Logistics is a non-profit making operation that co-ordinates the supply of a vast range of goods to the National Health Service in the UK. The government is moving ahead with plans to sell the organisation to DHL, the German-owned logistics and delivery service. Public services union UNISON is running a campaign of opposition to the sell-off and is planning to ballot members over possible industrial action. The union has also made sure that it gets the message across to the increasing numbers of Polish workers in the NHS by printing campaigning material in Polish.
