

European integration - analysis of the role of trade unions and EPSU in Economic and Monetary Union

An interesting article has been published in an academic journal which analyses the role of trade union responses to changing production relations that accompanied the process of European integration and in more particular the European Economic and Monetary Union. It is one of the few contributions that regards in some detail how European trade union federations such as EMF and EPSU have reacted.

The article is:

Bieler, Andreas (2005) 'European Integration and the Transnational Restructuring of Social Relations: the Emergence of Labour as a Regional Actor?', Journal of Common Market Studies, Vol.43/3: 461-84. and can be found at:

<http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/~ldzab/Euro-Labour.pdf>

- Log in to post comments
- Printer-friendly version

Policies

Collective Bargaining