

Survey shows positive developments in collective bargaining

 Czech Republic

(August 2016) A survey of collective agreements across the Czech Republic for 2014-2015 shows year-on-year, there was a significant increase in the number of collective agreements containing commitments on overall wage increases and commitments to increase salary tariffs. The survey also looked at salary bonuses and benefits as well as working hours and holidays where there were no significant developments over the period covered. Read more at Eurofound.
