OPINION OF THE COMMITTEE ON PETITIONS

for the Committee on Constitutional Affairs

Rapporteur: Jarosław Wałęsa

SHORT JUSTIFICATION

The Commission proposal (COM(2017)482 – 2017/0220(COD)) on the revision of Regulation (EU) No 211/2011 on the European Citizens’ Initiative (hereinafter ‘ECI’) sets out a comprehensive review of the ECI legal framework with the main objective of making the ECI more accessible as a public participation tool for civic engagement in the Union. The Committee on Petitions fully supports the Commission’s endeavour to increase the provision of guidance, support and awareness-raising activities relating to the ECI to all Union citizens in order to fully realise the potential of the ECI instrument in fostering public debate and citizen participation at Union level. In particular, the PETI Rapporteur stresses the importance of the ECI public hearings at the European Parliament as a mechanism for dialogue and exchange of views between Union institutions and organisers of successful ECIs as a way of bringing the Union closer to its citizens. In this regard, it is particularly important to ensure a balanced and inclusive organisation of ECI public hearings. The European Parliament should therefore endeavour to foster an appropriate level of public debate on successful initiatives, including the possibility of a plenary debate on the initiative, which may be concluded by the adoption of a motion for resolution. The PETI Rapporteur also highlights the importance of establishing not only online support to citizens and ECI organisers, but also offline support and physical contact points for ECI information dissemination and citizen advisory services, including the provision of support in defining a compliant legal basis for an initiative under Union law. In view of the low number of successful ECIs under the existing Regulation, the PETI Rapporteur welcomes the Commission’s proposal to lengthen the time of assessing ECIs from three to five months and trusts that the Commission’s political and legislative follow-up to ECIs will thereby be rendered more proactive and transparent.

AMENDMENTS
The Committee on Petitions calls on the Committee on Constitutional Affairs, as the committee responsible, to take into account the following amendments:

Proposal for a regulation

Recital 1

Text proposed by the Commission

(1) The Treaty on European Union (TEU) reinforces citizenship of the Union and enhances further the democratic functioning of the Union by providing, inter alia, that every citizen of the Union has the right to participate in the democratic life of the Union. The European citizens’ initiative is a Union instrument of participatory democracy which affords citizens of the Union the possibility of directly approaching the Commission with a request inviting it to submit a proposal for a legal act of the Union for the purpose of implementing the Treaties, similar to the right conferred on the European Parliament under Article 225 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) and on the Council under Article 241 TFEU.

Amendment

(1) The Treaty on European Union (TEU) and in particular Articles 1, 2, 9, 10 and 11 thereof, reinforces citizenship of the Union and enhances further the democratic functioning of the Union by providing, inter alia, that every citizen of the Union has the right to participate in the democratic life of the Union. The European citizens’ initiative is a Union instrument of participatory democracy which affords citizens of the Union the possibility of directly approaching the Commission with a request inviting it to submit a proposal for a new legal act or the abrogation of any existing or envisaged legal act of the Union for the purpose of implementing the Treaties, beyond the right conferred on the European Parliament under Article 225 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) and on the Council under Article 241 TFEU.

Justification

Article 296 TFEU gives enough room to interpret that a revision of the Treaties could be connected to a legal act. The Commission can initiate the revision procedure, according to article 48 TEU. At the same time, and taking into account the judgements of the Court of Justice, abrogation and revision should also fall within the scope of admissibility, and also when an initiative relates to envisaged legal acts, as those derived from international commercial treaties.

PE618.206v02-00  50/96  RR\1157365EN.docx
(3a) according to the Judgment of the General Court in Case T-754/1: Efler and Others v European Commission\(^a\) and in particular paragraphs 45 and 47 thereof, the ECI aims at allowing the citizens of the Union to participate directly in the democratic life of the Union. Their active participation in the democratic process is further strengthened especially through the mechanism of ECI, that allows them to raise questions and present them to the Commission, and to request from the latter to submit a proposal for a Union legal act after having, as the case may be, presented the ECI at a public hearing organised at the Parliament, by stimulating a democratic debate without having to await the adoption of the legal act whose modification or withdrawal is ultimately sought.

Amendment

(8) In accordance with Article 11(4) of the TEU, Articles 24 and 298(1) TFEU, the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union and in particular Article 41 thereof, an initiative inviting the European Commission, within the framework of its powers, to submit any appropriate proposal on matters where citizens consider that a legal act of the Union is required to implement the Treaties, is to be taken by not less than one million citizens of the Union who are nationals of a significant number of Member States.

Recital 12 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

(12a) In view of the advisory, translation and awareness-raising activities

(12a) In view of the advisory, translation and awareness-raising activities
(including the ‘ECI Day’) undertaken by the consultative institutions of the Union, especially the European Economic and Social Committee, the Commission will keep those institutions informed on newly registered initiatives and future awareness-raising campaigns relating to the ECI.

Justification

It is essential to stress that other institutions of the EU shared a burden on their own initiative covering a lacunae that was left by the immense logistical and administrative burden previous regime created. In that sense the EESC has really through its proprio motu practice earned a great role in the process, which should be applauded.

Amendment 11

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 13

Text proposed by the Commission

(13) In order to make the European citizens’ initiative more accessible and to provide support to citizens and organisers, the Commission should provide information and assistance to organisers and make available an online collaborative platform to provide a dedicated discussion forum and information and advice about the European citizens’ initiative. To ensure proximity to citizens, Member States should establish one or more contact points in their respective territories to provide citizens with information and assistance regarding the European citizens’ initiative.

Amendment

(13) In order to make the European citizens' initiative more accessible and to provide support to citizens and organisers, the Commission should provide information and assistance free of charge to organisers and make available an online collaborative platform to provide a dedicated discussion forum and information and advice about the European citizens' initiative, that will serve also as a platform for the exchange of ideas and best practices and to enable citizens to discuss proposed citizens' initiatives and to formulate new ones. To ensure proximity to citizens, Member States building upon the Europe Direct Information Centres should establish, in due time and in any case by the time this Regulation comes into force, ECI help desks in their respective territories to provide citizens with information and assistance and guidance regarding the submission of a European citizens’ initiative on technical issues related to the ECI, including how to promote the ECI at national and local level. An annual ECI conference at EU level should be organised on the ECI day with the aim of further strengthening dialogue and exchange of best practices between organisers, civil society and social partners and EU institutions and to assess the state of implementation and effectiveness of the ECI.

Amendment

(13a) In order to raise awareness and foster the debate concerning on-going initiatives as national level, where signatures are collected, it is important to involve both national and regional parliaments from an early stage and that the offices of the representatives of the Commission and the European Parliament in the Member States put their facilities at the service of citizens’ initiatives. At the Union level, the neutral role of the European Economic and Social Committee makes it suitable to play a role of facilitator and institutional mentor during the on-going citizens’ initiatives.

Amendment 13

Recital 15

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(15) In order to ensure coherence and transparency in relation to initiatives and to avoid a situation where signatures are collected for an initiative which does not comply with the conditions laid down by the Treaties and this Regulation, initiatives that comply with the conditions laid down in this Regulation should be registered by the Commission before collecting statements of support from citizens. The Commission should deal with registration in accordance with the general principles of good administration.

In the exercise of its multiple duties in relation to the citizens’ initiative, the Commission should establish a specialised unit to deal with the legal admissibility of initiatives. The necessary resources should be ensured so that an objective assessment on admissibility is carried out independently of political considerations and in accordance with the general principles of good administration. This assessment should be fully accessible to the public.

The Commission may seek advice of the European Union Agency for Network and Information Security (ENISA) which assists the Union institutions in developing and implementing policies related to security of network and information systems and the European Data Protection Supervisor (EDPS), which advises Union institutions and bodies on all matters relating to the processing of personal information. The group of organisers may also consult with ENISA and EDPS if they opt for setting up its own online collection systems.

Amendment 19

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 22 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

(22a) In order to encourage participation and public debate on the issues raised by initiatives, once the first six months of a collection period have passed, the group of organisers should have the right to present its initiative and, to that end, request that a first public hearing be held at Union level. The hearing should be organised by the European Parliament within three months of the request submitted by the group of organisers.

Justification

The aim of this first public hearing is to offer solid support to the group of organisers in order to make EU citizens more aware of the initiative and of the specific goals that the organisers are seeking to achieve.

Amendment 20

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 23
Text proposed by the Commission

(23) In order to promote participation and public debate on the issues raised by the initiatives, where an initiative supported by the required number of signatories and fulfilling the other requirements of this Regulation is submitted to the Commission, the group of organisers should have the right to present that initiative at a public hearing at Union level. The public hearing should be co-organised by the Commission and the European Parliament within three months from the submission of the initiative and ensure a balanced representation of relevant public and private interests well as the representation at an appropriate level of the Commission. Other institutions and advisory bodies of the Union as well as interested stakeholders should have the opportunity to participate in the hearing.

Amendment

(23) In order to promote participation and public debate on the issues raised by the initiatives, where an initiative supported by the required number of signatories and fulfilling the other requirements of this Regulation is submitted to the Commission, the group of organisers should have the right to present that initiative at a public hearing at Union level. The European Parliament should organise the public hearing within three months from the submission of the initiative to the Commission. The European Parliament should ensure a balanced representation of the interests of relevant stakeholders, including civil society, social partners, and experts, as well as the representation at an appropriate level of the Commission and the Council. Other institutions and advisory bodies of the Union, in particular the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions, as well as interested stakeholders should have the opportunity to participate in the hearing.

The European Parliament should endeavour to foster an appropriate level of debate on successful initiatives by holding a plenary debate after the public hearing, and by taking a decision on the possibility to vote on a motion for a resolution.

Justification

See the PETI opinion on the revision of Regulation (EU) 211/2011 on the citizens’ initiative (PETI_AD(2017)606197) (PE 606.197v03-00). While the Parliament ought to endeavour to promote a public debate on initiatives which satisfy the conditions of the Regulation, creating a legal obligation on Parliament to follow a specific course of action on all ECIs may not be suitable in certain cases. The AM therefore reflects the optional nature of the possibility of following up on successful ECIs by holding a plenary debate and adopting a motion for a resolution, but would not legally bind the Parliament to follow such a specific course of action for each ECI.

Amendment 21
Proposal for a regulation
Recital 24

Text proposed by the Commission

(24) To ensure the effective participation of citizens in the democratic life of the Union, the Commission should examine a valid initiative and respond to it. The Commission should therefore set out its legal and political conclusions as well as the action it intends to take within a period of five months from the receipt of the initiative. The Commission should explain in a clear, comprehensible and detailed manner the reasons for its intended action, and should likewise give its reasons if it does not intend to take any action.

Amendment

(24) To ensure the effective participation of citizens in the democratic life of the Union, the Commission after the public hearing and plenary debate in the European parliament and after proper dialogue with the ECI organisers, should examine a valid initiative and respond to it in due time taking into account that successful initiatives should have an appropriate follow up. The Commission should therefore set out its legal and political conclusions as well as the legislative or non-legislative actions it intends to take within a period of five months from the receipt of the initiative. The Commission justify adequately in a clear, comprehensible and detailed manner, substantiating the reasons for its intended action, and should likewise give in an even more developed way detailed and clear reasons if it does not intend to take any action, be it partial or complete refusal. In both cases a second public hearing should be organised to discuss the conclusions communicated by the Commission, under the same rule as the first.

Amendment

(25) The support and funding for initiatives should be transparent and accountable. Therefore groups of organisers should provide updated support and funding for their initiatives between the date of registration and the date at which the initiative is submitted to the Commission. Entities, notably organisations which under the Treaties contribute to forming European political awareness and expressing the will of citizens of the Union, should be able to promote and provide support and funding to initiatives, provided that they do so in accordance with the procedures and conditions laid down by this Regulation and with full transparency.

The Commission should perform quality and random checks on the financial and funding sources provided by the ECI organisers. Citizens should also be able to trigger an alert in case of suspicions of wrongdoings. The sources of support and funding should also be publicly available and regularly updated together with the rest of the information on the ECI initiative published online.
