Taking back control

Governments must ensure that they act in the best interest of their communities by providing quality public services. The provision of essential services should be their highest priority. Privatisation should only be considered if it has been demonstrated to be in the best interest of communities and the best use of taxpayer funding.

The screenshot displays the POP website interface. At the top, there is a red navigation bar with the POP logo and links for RESOURCES, CAMPAIGNS, EVENTS, and ABOUT. A 'START CAMPAIGN' button is located on the right. Below the navigation bar is a search bar with the placeholder text 'Search resources by country, topic, sector, affiliate, actor and keyword'. To the right of the search bar is a filter for 'Showing all time'. Below the search bar is a horizontal menu with filters for All (856), Case studies (2), News (724), Documents (120), and Multimedia (10). A 'From Twitter' link is also present. The main content area shows 'Documents (120)' and a pagination bar indicating '12 of 120' documents, with page numbers 1 through 10 and a 'Next >' button. The first document is titled 'Water Renationalisation in Cameroon 2018' and is marked as a PDF. The background image of the document cover shows a group of people and a water tap.

Mr Nura Nazarbaev, President, Republic of Kazakhstan

I am writing to raise concerns over the situation with the criminal prosecution of leaders of the Confederation of Independent Trade Unions (KNPRK). KNPRK Chairwoman Larisa Kharkova has been sentenced to four years of restriction on freedom of movement.

Earlier Vice-Chairman of the KNPRK Nurbek Kushakbaev

Sounding the alarm on dangerous public-private partnerships (PPP's).

Nov 02, 2017

Public Services International, EURODAD and other CSO partners jointly urge all those concerned with justice, equality, sustainability and human rights to resist the encroachment of PPPs and to push instead for high-quality, publicly-funded, democratically-controlled, accountable public services. The well-being of our communities and societies depends on it!
